THE FIRST
TWENTY-FIVE YEARS
OF THE
NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

by James J. Waldorf

INTRODUCTION

The origins of the Numismatic Association of Southern California date back to 1954. Informal discussions and gatherings produced agreement among a small group of avid Southern California collectors that this area should have its own regional association. The first "official" meeting, as documented in our history books, was held at the Hayward Hotel in Los Angeles on 31 July 1955. The minutes of this meeting are signed by the Association's first Secretary, Harold F. Donald. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Pro-Tem Karl M. Brainard. One of the first orders of business was selection of a name for the new organization and, after some debate and various suggestions, I. Newton Sanders suggested "Numismatic Association of Southern California", a name that met with unanimous acceptance.

The Constitution and By-Laws of the Numismatic Association of Southern California were adopted on 28 November 1955. The objectives, as set forth in the Constitution, are to advance the knowledge of numismatics historically, scientifically, and educationally, and also to bring together numismatists of Southern California to advance these goals.

Many things have changed over the years. The first convention in 1956 registered only a couple of hundred attendees whereas modern times produce registrations in the thousands. Prices have changed over the years also. Past President Ben Williams recalls some grumbling at our second convention because the Bourse fee was $25.00—would that we could work with prices anywhere near that figure in 1980, I'm sure the dealers would be overjoyed! In those first years, coin conventions or "shows" were few and far between and collectors flocked to each one, once they became aware of them. Now, it is a rare week that does not bring Southern California numismatists the "opportunity" to attend at least one such gathering.

Where NASC blazed the trail, other organizations have followed. Some of the "followers" have been, like NASC, non-profit groups while others have been profit-making commercial corporations. In either case, they have contributed their lines or pages to the overall history of numismatics in Southern California. In the pages that follow are some of the highlights of NASC's first twenty-five years. Even an undertaking such as this cannot hope to be absolutely complete. Past President James Waldorf has researched the available sources and has attempted to report the more notable features of each of the 25 years. In addition, he has assembled in tabular form, chronological listings of the persons who have held most of NASC's elective and appointive positions of highest responsibility and those who have received its highest awards.

It is hoped that this historical outline of NASC's first 25 years will serve as a reference and an inspiration to those who remember its history and to those who will live with its future.

President - Scott McCormac

The first NASC Convention was held February 17, 18, 19, 1956 at the Hotel located at 426 South Hill Street, in downtown Los Angeles. The Bourse chair was Karl Brainard and the auction was conducted by S.J. Kabealo. Other committees were headed by: I.N. Sanders, Awards; Dunbar, Displays; Abel Sampson, Prizes; Charles Johnson, Banquet; W. 1960

President - C.A. Dunbar

During the term of "Slim" Dunbar, the 1960 issue of the N.A.S.C. Quarterly was inaugurated in July, 1959, with Eric Warner as editor. As of that time, the association had 24 member clubs.

President - Ben Williams

During the administration of Ben Williams, a contest was held for the purpose of adopting a seal for the organization. After all entries had been reviewed by the judges, it was determined that the first and second place winners were both submitted by Louis E. Zumwalt. His winning design brought him a $10.00 gold piece. The design, which appears on the cover of this publication, has been the official symbol of NASC since that date. The lace work around the edge of the seal represents the NASC members, united in a common cause. The date appearing on the seal, 1954, represents the year the association was first conceived and by-laws adopted. The torch represents freedom of choice in pursuing the hobby. The dexter (right) hand is the symbol of friendship. The book represents numismatic knowledge. The globe represents numismatics around the world, with a star situated in California, where the conventions are held. The creator, Louis E. Zumwalt, served as Treasurer for three years and elected governor for another five with the association.

One of the highlights of the convention was the auction sale conducted by A. Kosoff, then of Encino, California, which sale included the Hydeman specimen of the 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, an 1804 Silver Dollar, and an 1894-S Liberty Head Dime.

President -

Richard P. Goodson

In attempting to visit each club affiliated with the Association, Richard P. Goodson was stricken with a heart attack. However, he recovered in time for the Lucky 7th convention. The Lee G. Lahrman collection was sold at the auction by Peter B. Payne of San Bernardino, California. The NASC Speaker's Bureau was created during the presidential term of Richard P. Goodson.

President - George Bennett

The 8th Annual Convention, under the leadership of President George Bennett, was reported to have been highly successful. A. Kosoff of Encino, California, was again the auctioneer. Ben Adams received the Best Of Show exhibit award.

1964

President - Thomas H. Wood

The 9th Annual Convention found Jim (ends) Kelly of Coin World, conducting auction. President Wood attended meetings of all affiliated clubs of NASC with the exception of the Bakersfield Coin Club.

President - Karl Brainard

The 10th Annual Convention again found Jim (Trends) Kelly acting as auctioneer. The 10th President, Karl Brainard, is generally considered the founder of NASC and, during his administration, instigated the NASC Money Museum. The purpose of the Money Museum was to impart numismatic information and knowledge through the display of various types of media of exchange that have been used throughout history. This ultimately led to the present classification of NASC as a tax exempt non-profit corporation.

During the administration of Murray Singer, NASC was able to create an audio-visual program for use by member clubs, through the cooperation of the American Numismatic Association, and was able to integrate this program with the speaker's bureau list which was originally created in 1961 under then-President Richard P. Hodson.

A three-day auction was conducted by Abe Kliman and Steve Kosoff of Numismatic Enterprises. Several special meetings of the American Numismatic Association were held in the course of the convention. Matt Rothert, then President of ANA, was guest speaker and Installing Officer at the banquet. The banquet attracted 316 guests, a record attendance to that date.

Exhibit chairman, James Betton, reported a total of 90 displays. The Best Of Show Award was won by Lawrence E. Morton, for "Type Coinage of Cuba."

Eva Adams, director of the United States Mint, was scheduled to be a featured speaker at the banquet, but was forced to cancel at the last moment. The California Exonumist Society and the Society for International Numismatics presented educational forums during the convention.

President - Walter T. Snyder

The 12th Annual Convention reported a paid registration in excess of 3,500. An auction of 1,645 lots was conducted by James Kelly, and 71 exhibits were on display in the exhibit room. Herbert M. Bergen and Ralph "Curly" Mitchell acted as Installing Officer and M.C. at the banquet. Roy Gray was the winner of the Best Of Show Award.

On Friday, a portion of the NASC Money Museum was conducted by Ernest Hood, Museum Curator. O.I.N. held a forum on Friday evening with Maurice M. Gould acting as moderator, presenting Thomas W. Becker and Edward C. Rochette as speakers, with Enrico Clavaria presenting a paper by Albert F. Pradeau, who was unable to attend due to illness.

The auction was conducted by Numismatic Enterprises, with Steve Kosoff, Mike [unclear], and Abe Kosoff. The Master of Ceremonies at the banquet was Don [unclear] of Phoenix, then second Vice-President of ANA. ANA President Arthur [unclear] and his wife were also in attendance. The Echo Park Coin Club was the recipient of the first "President's Trophy". Lex [unclear] and his orchestra presented entertainment during the banquet. The Best Of [unclear] Award was won by Armando Ojeda.

The fourteenth convention drew more than 3,000 registrants, and the auction was conducted by Paramount International Corporation. The speakers at the symposium included Abe Kosoff, who spoke on "the Lilly Collection", James Conlon, Director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, who discussed his experiences with the production of paper money, and Fred Green, who spoke on "the responsibility of numismatic publications." Walter L. Krause had been scheduled as a main speaker, but was unable to attend. At the banquet, Ralph Mitchell acted as Master of Ceremonies, and Charles M. Brown was the Installing Officer. The Best of Show exhibit award was presented to Leonard Ratzman whose exhibit was titled "Buffalo Nickels."

The "Sensational Sixteenth" convention was highlighted by a series of earthquakes in the Los Angeles area, creating concern among many out-of-town visitors, the local residents seemed to take it in stride. Collectors from 32 states and 7 foreign countries were present, and the bourse room included 93 dealers, including 52 dealers from out of state.

The Heideman 1913 liberty head nickel and the Idler 1804 dollar attracted much media publicity.

The forum speakers included Raymond G. Manville, Sylvia Haffner and Eva B. Adams. The speaker at the breakfast was Yitzhak Avni, Director-general of the Israel Government Coins and Medals Corporation of Jerusalem, with Ralph Mitchell serving as Master of Ceremonies at the banquet, and Albert Baber as Installation Officer.

President -James J. Waldorf

The "Transcendental Twentieth" pre-convention activities included an active membership drive which resulted in the greatest increase in membership for any of the first twenty years (with the exception of the year the association was founded).

President Waldorf reported visiting all member clubs, including the conventions of the Northern California Numismatic Association and the Hawaii State Numismatic Association. A contest held in connection with the membership drive saw Ed Linn receiving a gift for being the outstanding recruiter. Wooden nickels were included with the convention advertising.

A record number of club representatives attended the Saturday morning breakfast to hear Richard Yeoman's presentation and were treated to the "Scandinavian Breakfast" (lox and bagels) of Sol Linn. Maurice M. Gould acted as Master of Ceremonies at the banquet, with Abe Linn as Installing Officer. Former Mint Director, Eva Adams assisted Exhibit Chairperson Richard Lebold in presentations to the exhibit winners. The Best Of Show Award was given to Albert Hall, for an exhibit entitled "Decorations of Thailand".

President - Sol Taylor

The Presidency of Sol Taylor saw many sweeping organizational changes, streamlining of committees, improved lines of responsibility and the birth of the District Representatives program. In addition NASC served as the host organization for the American Numismatic Association Convention in August. NASC Past President, Edwin F. Borgolte, served as Chairman of that convention, and most of the committees were headed by NASC activists.

1977 President - Raymond R. Reinoehl

The 22nd Annual Convention featured an unusual twist: on the day prior to the opening of the convention, Wednesday, February 23, the convention facilities were turned over to the Professional Numismatists Guild who conducted a "PNG" day by invitation. The Franklin Mint also maintained an exhibit throughout the convention. Dan Brown acted as Master of Ceremonies at the banquet, substituting for Federico Claveria, who was taken ill at the last moment. Past President Ben Williams acted as Installing Officer, and the banquet was entertained with Latin music and

Mexican attire. The theme of the convention was "Friendship with Mexico Through Numismatics."

Paramount International Coin Corporation conducted the convention auction and Ralph Mitchell was the speaker at the Club Representatives breakfast. The Best Of Show Award was presented to Peter & Betty Brander for "Memorabilia of Agustin Iturbide—Emperor of Mexico." Immediately prior to the convention, it was announced that Past President Gordon Z. Greene had passed away.

President - Myron McClaflin

The 23rd Annual Convention was run by our favorite Irishman, the Boss Leprechaun, with the theme being "Ireland". The convention was indeed colorful, and saw the inauguration of the NASC Club Benefit Gold Drawing, at which 35 gold coins were raffled. Fifty-two member clubs participated in this program, in which one-half of the proceeds from the sale of tickets was given directly to the member club making the sale, with the remainder going to NASC to offset actual expenses. In addition, gold coins were also presented to clubs selling 100 or more books of tickets. Raymond R. Reinoehl was the chairman in charge.

At the convention, an NASC Junior Forum was instituted, with Donna Sims as moderator and J.H. McInnis as speaker. The convention banquet saw Ben Abelson act as Master of Ceremonies and Eva Adams as Installing Officer. Thomas F. Fitzgerald was awarded Best Of Show for "U.S. Fractional Currency" and Junior Division Best Of Show was awarded to Julie Bascou for "Britain's Decimal Coins."

The 24th Annual Convention featured "any" as its theme. The highlight of the convention banquet was a special Fifty-Year Tribute to Abe Kosoff.

The administration of President Lebold completed an up-to-date reconstruction of the SC By-Laws.

The Silver Jubilee 25th Anniversary saw advertising return to the NASC Quarterly Publication. Regrettably, it also saw the recognition of a financial pinch when the Finance Chairman reported that expenses had exceeded income for the two previous years. Once again, the NASC President was able to report having visited all member clubs (with the exception of the Northern California Numismatic Association and the Hawaii State Numismatic Association) during the year. A number of special items of recognition of the Association's Silver Anniversary (including this 25-year history) were planned and arranged for the year.

COMMITTEES

The foundation of our organization is the Committee System. Graduating from fewer than a dozen committees in the early years, by 1974, the Association could account for as many as thirty-four standing committees. While many of our committees have arisen from the need to distribute the workload of an over-burdened task into several segments, the complexities of the Association's growth also accounts for the need for a continually increasing number of committees.

The Bourse Committee

The success of the Convention Bourse is of the greatest importance to the Association, the reason that a very significant portion of our annual revenues are derived from this bourse. This explains, perhaps, why nearly all of our Bourse Chairmen have, at one time or another, held high elective office in the Association. Although the Bourse Committee's activities do not come into the spotlight until Convention time, the Committee is active throughout the year. Many months prior to the Convention, the Bourse plans and room arrangements are formulated. In November, the Committee begins processing applications for booth space, assigning booth locations, and handling great volumes of correspondence with prospective Bourse dealers. By the opening of the Convention, the Bourse Committee has analyzed all arrangements with Bourse dealers, and is on hand on the day prior to the opening of the Convention to check in each arriving Bourse dealer, approve the Bourse layout, and handle the numerous last-minute arrangements which always seem necessary. Throughout the Convention, the Bourse Committee must be on hand at all times while the Convention is open to the public, acting as a liaison between the Association and Bourse dealers. In the early years of the Association, the Bourse Committee was also responsible for activities now undertaken by others, including security, signs, and other logistical aspects of the Convention.

At NASC, we have been fortunate to have had this important committee chaired by men of great competence and dedication. Because of this, we seem to have enjoyed a reputation for receiving fewer complaints than almost any comparable numismatic organization at its conventions. Our Bourse Chairmen have been:

1955-56	Karl M. Brainard
1956-57	Paul Weiger & Karl M. Brainard
1957-58	Karl M. Brainard & Dave Haegele

The Security Committee

Beginning in 1962, a separate committee was formed for the purpose of providing convention security. The function of Security is closely inter-related with the Bourse activity, and as such, these committees work hand-in-hand from the planning stages through the Convention. Traditionally, Security has been a one member committee, with exceptions and we have been very fortunate to have received the long tenure of Dick Young and Walter Snyder in this capacity.

Prior to the Convention, the Security Chairman makes arrangements, subject to Board approval, with an outside Security Agency for the purpose of providing security services during the Convention. The Security Chairman is then in charge of supervising the operation of the security guards commencing with the day prior to the opening of the Convention, and concluding the day following the close of the Convention. The Security Chairman's duties at the Convention commence before those of any other committee, and conclude long after all other workers have left the Convention site. In addition, the Security Chairman, or his assistant, is generally on call twenty-four hours per day while the Convention is in progress. Our Security Chairmen have been:

1962-63	Thomas H. Wood
1963-64	C.R. Young
1964-65	C.R. Young
1965-66	C.R. Young

1976-77	William O. Wisslead
1977-78	Raymond R. Reinoehl
1978-79	Paul Borack
1979-80	Nathan Bromberg

The Registration Committee

Unlike the Bourse and Security Committees, whose activities are related primarily to our dealers, the Registration Committee is the general source of contact with the public during the Convention. In many cases, the workload of this committee is directly related to Convention attendance. This is by far the largest working group during the Convention.

Prior to the Convention, the Committee responsibilities involve preparation of all necessary materials to handle the registration of members and guest, and the organization of sufficient committee members to insure a full working crew throughout the Convention. Although often overlooked, this committee has been able to provide registration services during all times when the Bourse Rooms are open, at the expense of a few dedicated individuals who are willing to sacrifice their own participation in conflicting activities, such as our annual Business Meeting and our annual Awards Banquet.

There is always a need for additional assistance at the Registration Desk. Although the Registration Committee generally seeks volunteers from far and wide, I'm sure many w willing to devote a couple of hours to this important function are never contacted. If you are interested in helping with this activity, please ask. We'll sincerely appreciate it. Our Organization Chairmen have been:

1955-56	Harold F. Donald
1956-57	Thelma Case & Grace Brainard

The Exhibit Committee

Believe it or not, the Exhibit Committee is one whose work is largely completed by the time the Convention opens! Prior to the Convention, the Committee solicits exhibitors, plans the layout of the Exhibit Room, and assigns exhibit space. Immediately prior to the opening of the Convention, the exhibitors are checked in, given area assignments, and placed in the arrangements for their displays. In general, by the time the Convention opens, all that remains is the function of judging the exhibits, determining the award winners, and assisting in the removal of the displays. This is traditionally one of those committees which is, at the very last minute, deluged with requests for special treatment. This is also the committee which seems to take the brunt of criticism from dissatisfied exhibitors, notwithstanding the fact that the Committee does not determine the award winners. Throughout the Convention, while the Bourse Room teems with activity, the Exhibit Room can be a lonely exile. Those who have accepted the assignment as Chairperson of the Committee are:

1955-56	I. Newton Sanders
1956-57	Clyde Grimm

AWARDS

The Numismatic Association of Southern California presents its highest awards annually at the Installation Banquet. Much publicity and notariety are given to the exhibit awards, and many of us lose sight of the fact that the NASC's most cherished awards are designed to recognize merit throughout the year, rather than an exhibit prepared for the convention. These Awards are: (1) The Karl M. Brainard Memorial Literary Awards; (2) The President's Trophy; (3) The Richard P. Goodson Memorial Award; and (4) The Maurice M. Gould Memorial Junior Achievement Award.

The Karl M. Brainard Memorial Literary Awards

The Literary Awards are N.A.S.C.'s oldest non-exhibit awards, having been given annually since the 1965 Convention. These awards are given to the authors of the three best original articles published in the "NASC Quarterly" throughout the year. In 1973, the Literary Awards were renamed "The Karl M. Brainard Memorial Literary Awards" in honor of our Founder and Past President, Karl M. Brainard. The caliber of our past recipients is a tribute to the quality of our quarterly publication:

- 1965 - First Place, Maurice Jensen; Second Place, Kenneth Young
- 1966 - First Place, Maurice Jensen; Second Place, George Rony
- 1967 - (Names of Award Winners not available)

The President's Trophy

The President's Trophy is awarded annually to the NASC member club which has consistently published the outstanding club bulletin during the previous year. With approximately seventy current NASC member clubs, most of which issue a monthly bulletin, a selection of the President's Trophy recipient is generally the most difficult to determine. The award was first given in 1968 to Echo Park Coin Club, when the trophy was conceived and donated by Edwin C. Borgolte and Peggy E. Borgolte. The competition for this award has been increasingly intense since its inception. The original trophy was retired at the 1979 meeting by the San Bernardino County Coin Club, the first club to receive the award three times.

Past winners are:

- 1968 - Echo Park Coin Club
- 1969 - Azteca Numismatic Society
- 1970 - Los Angeles Coin Club
- 1971 - West Valley Coin Club
- 1972 - West Valley Coin Club
- 1973 - American British Numismatic Society
- 1974 - Israel Numismatic Society of San Gabriel Valley
- 1975 - Torrance Coin Club
- 1976 - Azteca Numismatic Society
- 1977 - San Bernardino County Coin Club
- 1978 - San Bernardino County Coin Club
- 1979 - San Bernardino County Coin Club

The Richard P. Goodson Memorial Award

The highest award which the Numismatic Association of Southern California can bestow upon an individual is the Richard P. Goodson Memorial Award, which is given annually to the member or members who have contributed the most in the field of Numismatics through the Numismatic Association of Southern California. The only requirement for the recipient have been a member in good standing of NASC for at least three consecutive years. The occasion of this award has traditionally been the emotional highlight of the annual banquet. The award was first given in honor of NASC's Past President by the Vista Coin Club in 1968, and past winners are:

- 1968 - Charles M. Johnson
- 1969 - Abe Kosoff
- 1970 - Maurice M. Gould
- 1971 - Peggy E. Borgolte and Karl M. Brainard
- 1972 - Herbert M. Bergen
- 1973 - William O. Wisslead
- 1974 - Murray G. Singer
- 1975 - Walter T. Snyder
- 1976 - Thomas H. Wood
- 1977 - George Bennett
- 1978 - Carol Ann Linn
- 1979 - Raymond R. Reinoehl

The Maurice M. Gould Memorial Junior Achievement Award

The Maurice M. Gould Memorial Junior Achievement Award was founded at the 1973 convention, to be given annually to the outstanding young Numismatist in Southern California.

California. To be eligible, a young Numismatist must be under eighteen years of age at the time of the Convention, and must be either a member in good standing of NASC or a member in good standing of an NASC member club. Nominations for this award may be made either by NASC member clubs or by any individual member of NASC. Our past recipients are:

- 1973 - Debbie Martin, James Zimmerman, Kenneth Byrne
- 1974 - Albert Cole
- 1975 - Marti Hughes
- 1976 - Duffy Waldorf
- 1977 - Oscar Lopez
- 1978 - Theodore Patrick Lopez
- 1979 - Michelle Lopez
